Michael Malgeri is the creator of the “Johnny Profit” series of children's books, which he calls “Bedtime Stories about Capitalism.”

The series has been endorsed by Steve Forbes, Larry Kudlow and The Heartland Institute.

Michael is on a mission to teach kids that honest profit making is GOOD and to help wipe out “Economic Child Abuse.”

He lives with his wife and two young children in Southern California and has written about their antics each week for the last 7 years in his blog titled, “On Dad's Watch, Family Life from a Dad's Perspective.”
